Receive the latest local updates in your inbox Bakersfield police say they were called to the scene on Wednesday, where they found a 29-year-old man and a 28-year-old woman who threw their dog from a parking lot onto the highway. Both the couple, who have not yet been named by police, were booked on animal cruelty and misdemeanor charges, and police said they will be contacting animal control to take custody of the two dogs. Authorities said the dogs were being kept in deplorable conditions. The animals were not wearing collars or tags and appeared to be living in a cramped wire crate. One of the dogs was sick and defecating on the floor. Bakersfield Animal Shelter The arrest warrant said the couple appeared to be living out of their car. It's unclear where they're staying at the moment. The couple was also charged with possessing a substance believed to be methamphetamine, although police would not specify what the substance was. Police said they believe this is the second time that the couple threw their dog from a car. They were both released on their own recognizance.* and p53 gene expression levels in the control and methyl mercury treated groups. In contrast, a significant increase in expression level was observed in L. gasseri treated group as compared to control (Figure 3{ref-type="Fig"}). !Semi-quantitative analysis of gene expression of L. gasseri (Lg) and P. acnes (Pa) after 48 h of incubation. The gene expression was calculated by using the 2^Δ
