Testimony When it comes to our children, we parents can sometimes get a little caught up in our guilt and just keep doing whatever we're doing. We feel we have to try harder and tell our children, "I'm sorry." Some of us get discouraged when our children lash out in their disappointment or anger, or they quickly grow up and don't want to be around us. We start to assume the worst and feel like we've lost control. But I had that same thought once, and I'd like to share it with you. We need to remember that we can't control everything. And some of what we see or hear may be challenging. A Father's Testimony Like everyone else, I know from experience that God can and does use other people's experiences to change our lives. One story that I remember is about my dad. He was a student at school and seemed to be doing pretty well, until his teacher asked him to read from his Bible for class. My dad didn't understand how that would help; he'd never even been to church. It turned out that his teacher was looking for someone to share their testimony with the class—someone who believed in Jesus and was willing to give their life to Him. You see, my dad was just like lots of other kids when his teacher asked him to share his testimony. He just shrugged his shoulders, kind of gave her a look, and said, "I'm not sure if I know what you mean by a testimony." He was convinced that a testimony was something that came from someone else—like a preacher or a Bible teacher. But his teacher explained that a testimony
